

lat asd This may well be the first handwritten ref desk post. According to the pseudo-science about how your handwriting reflects your personality, I am highly . organised, conservative, and some what rigid in my thinking. I am infact the same easy-going, brad broad-minded and totally scatter-brained person as I was before, at the age of fifteen, I came across a book called "improve your Handwriting" and bought a calligraphy pen. Except with handwriting that was legible.
